The Bugbee-Fuller Case.

The contest for the Opera House between Messrs. If Squire Matlack's decision is sustained by the Common Pleas Court, then Mr. Bugbee can bring suit for damages sustained on the bond given by Mr. Fuller. Mr. Fuller has made known his intention to give the requisite bond, and the case will most probably be taken to the Louis ville Court of Common Pleas at an early Excitement Among the Bruisers and the Patrons of the P. R.

CONDITION OF THE FIGHTERS.

Special to the Louisville Express. St. Louis, June 16, 1869.

The excitement about the fight between McCool and Allen continues, and the crowds in the streets and the drinking houses discuss the matter freely, and the partisans of each man are very violent in their expressions. It is conceded that Allen out fought McCool, and show ing conclusively the vast superiority of science over brute force. The referee, however, decided that McCool was entitled to the stakes, but the stakeholder refuses to give it up. He says the rules of the London P. R. say, when the ring is broken Silver Palace car "Gem," for New York into, or the ropes are cut, that the referee shall give the fight to the man who has the best of it at the time the ropes are cut. The ropes in this case were cut in the 7th round, still the referee would not proclaim man was called to preside in the United Allen the winner, when he had the fight all his own way up to that time Threats of violence have been made against him, but he remains firm. Altogether, the affair is disgraceful, and about ends the noble art in this section of the country Allen was on the street this morning and wears no sign of punishment whatever. McCoole is at home, under medical treat ment. He is badly hurt, but apparently defiant as ever. It will be some days beand Clay streets, to-night. Three other fore he recevers. Charley Gallagher has challenged Tom Allen to fight for one thousand dollars. In his challenge Gallagher recognizes Tom Allen as the victor in the fight yespasticipate in some grand doing on the terday. There is a general disgust over enough, there found Murray at work. The burglar had evidently heard the young man's footsteps, as he was moving about in a confused manner. The young man thought he would "give him one" at any rate, and fired. He does not know whether he hit Messrs. Hare, Leaf & Co., proprietors the burglar, but says the rascal flew out of the yard and over the fence, as though ke had been shot out of a cannon.

Woodward Pleads Guilty.

Our readers will remember our mention of J. L. Woodward, several weeks since arrested by Detectives Tiller, Gillmore and Corcoran for passing counterfeit money. He appeared in the U. S. District Court this morning and acknowledged his guilt, and at the same time divulged the fact that a citizen, who has been engaged in business for some time on Market street, was connected with him in the counterfeit money business. When the detectives went to arrest the citizen named by Woodward, they ascertained that he had "smelt a mice" and "skipped"-in other words, he had left the city-which fact i pretty good proof of the truthfulness of Woodward's statement. On Saturday Woodward says he will make a full confes sion, and tell about the whole affair, when some startling developements are expected by the detectives.

Why it Was. There is but little doubt that the major ity of the burglars who have been so boldly operating in the city during the past six months are negroes; and this is one reason why more of them were not "taken in." The negroes have this advantage over white people in the city: If a white man is caught strolling about the streets at unseasonable hours of the night, without being known to the police, he is very liable to be watched; but, as negroes are always prowling about, at all hours of the night, they are not as likely to be suspicioned as white men. And this is one reason why the watchmen have not "come up" with more of the black rascals who have committed the most of the burglaries.

ANOTHER BURGLAR.

He Makes a Big Haul at Midnight,

And is Nabbed at Daylight This Morning.

Between the hours of ten and twelve o'clock last night a negro burglar named John Murray made a raid in the neighborhood of Smoketown, in the southeast portion of the city. He had evidently "spotted" the house of Moses Allen, Treasurer of the Smoketown Colored Baptist Church for last night's work, no doubt having a pretty correct idea of the amount of booty it contained, and doubtless being aware of the fact that Mr. and Mrs. Allen were absent from home attending a strawberry festival down town. Murray first tried the window with a hatchet. Finding that the field was clear, he gave up his operations at the vindow and with his hatchet broke open the door. In a trunk the worthy treasurer of the colored church kept the tunds of his congregation. Murray was perhaps posted in regard to its location, and "went hrough" it in a jiffy. The trunk contained seventy-two dollars and seventy ents, and Murray took every cent of it.

When Mr. and Mrs. Allen returned from

he strawberry festival, they had occasion

o place something in the treasury trunk.

One glance into it, the honorable treasurer says, was enough to tell him that some one had "been dar since he'd been gone." After meditating upon the wickedness of the world, and conjecturing, among the thieves he knew, who might have committed the rob bery, he hit upon one whom he considered most likely to have stolen the church's funds. The unfortunate vic tim of his suspicions was. Jim Murray. Allen stood not upon the order of his going, but went at once, to the stationhouse. Here he found officer Moore, to whom he formed the officer that Jim Murray was employed in the brickyard of Mr. James between Jackson and Hancock. Officer Moore sent Allen back to his home, pre-Moore went to the brickyard and, sure ne could mislead the officer, and enhance sharp to let the darky get out of sight, or indeed, out of his grip. But he went to acter in the city. ne there able or inclined to assist him ie rogue said they would go back to the ickyard for his coat, which he had left there. To this Moore also consented, keeping a tight grasp on the negro's collar. and ready for anything that should turn up. Arriving at the yard, the coat was ound, and in the pockets the officer found the money, and the thief then acknowledged that he had stolen it from Allen's nouse. Mr. Moore took the black rascal at once to the jail, that he might be examined at the morning session of the City Court.

Esther.

This piece of Bible history, as it is now presented to the citizens of Louisville at Weisiger Hall, demands more than a pass ing notice. It is in every sense a splendid success. The costumes are appropriate the music is well rendered, and the char acters are correctly personated.

It has been the study of Mr. Foote t produce a representation to insure a just appreciation of this absorbing history without offending good taste or even re ligious scruples, and so far we have seen nothing to which even the most fastidiou could object. In the rehearsals, many of which we have had the pleasure of attending, we observed an earnest effort to impress upon the singers the full sentiment of the piece, in prayer not forgetting it was prayer, and so on throughout its difficult

Not one of these singers ever attempted anything of the kind before. They are first efforts; and this is not said as an apology for one of them. They need no apology. The solos, duetts and quartetts are excellent, but for grander effect Home of the Choruses might be more fully ren dered.

Miss Pattie McDonald, in her character as Queen Esther, is entitled to praise She interprets and personates the charac ter admirably, and her voice in the registers she attempts is not only correct, but musical and pleasing. She has talent that ought to be cultivated. The same may be said of Miss Sallie Foote as Zerest. She loses her identity, and for the momen feels real grief in her assumed character.

Mrs. Floyd, as the Prophetess, sings under the disadvantage of hoarseness, and yet her sustained tones are of a high quality. She will be looked for and welcomed on other occasions.

The gentlemen also performed their parts creditably. Mr. Foote has taught us that we have native talent amongst us. It needed but the hand of the master to develop it. Let there be more of this. Herein is an avenue to social refinement and a better apbe a step higher.

"IMPERIALISTIC." A Fashionable Boardinghouse,

Many of our city readers must have noticed the new and elegant building on the southwest corner of Second and Jefferson streets, and many have felt some little curiosity to know for what special built on the adjacent corners in the past years, two large and handsome husiness houses, one known as the Jacob block. and the other as Rudd's block; but the ent from its neighbors, and this, together counter was to take here of a style of government life. Dr. Elliot owns a plat of about eighty acres of improved ground in the west end of the city; the upper part of which lies along Fourteenth street, and is bounded on the North and South by Walnut and Broadway. He has laid out and improved with sewers and other appendages, at his own expense, those streets bordering and penetrating his grounds. Among the atter is "Elliot's Avenue." Seques tered in this choice piece of land is also found Elliot's Park, which has been mproved and presented to the public. He has also presented several valuable lots to men in his employ and devoted to the Methodist Chapel building committee large lot for building purposes, which will be dedicated in his name. Indeed, his iberality knows no bounds and his immense accumulations are disbursed with a wise hand. "Elliot's Corner," at no distant day, will be an institution of which the city may justly be proud.

The New Orleans Whisky Cases.

rom the St. Louis Republican, yesterday One of the New Orleans whisky cases, nto which investigations were that city by General Noble, the United States District Attorney, and depositions taken, was decided in the United States District Court on Saturday in favor of the government. The suit was against one hundred barrels of whisky seized on board the steamer Great Republic last summer. valued at about nine thousand dollars and claimed by Thomas H. Walker. The whisky was consigned to Henry C. Haar-stick, who went on the bond given for the whisky. The issues made in the case were whether the tax upon the spirits had been paid, whether Mr. Edward Hart, of New Orleans, had kept the book he was required to do as a rectifier and whether Thomas H. Walker had the spirits in his possession with intent to sell them in evasion of the revenue law. The testimony consisted chiefly of the depositions taken by General Noble, at New Orleans, and, as we have stated, the jury returned a verdict in favor of the government.

Mr. Sumner's Speech Not Adopted as the Basis.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, June 13. Since the discussion of the Alabama question, both at home and abroad, has taken such a wide scope, and since there has been such a decided re-action from the positions of Mr. Sumner's speech, and since the proposition to make the question a party issue meets with little serious brick and mortar, bearing upon its front a coat of arms and name resonant of rank and title, would be the Western headquar- and yet, our large edition. can, therefore, be no impropriety in stating the facts as they exist.

So much has been said from this point on this subject, and such vague and conday's issue was based upon facts given us tradictory accounts have been given of by officials in our city fire department, and Mr. Motley's instructions, that the public mind must be much confused respecting the precise attitude of our government. Mr. Sumner, while never asserting in positive terms that those instructions were based on his speech, has, nevertheless, sought to convey in his conversations the impression that he had been substantially indorsed, and he has repeatedly stated that Mr. Motley and himself were in perfect accord upon the subject. This latter assertion is very possibly true. But Mr. Sumner knows what Mr. Motley's instructions are as thoroughly as does the man who wrote them, and his pride probably prevents him from making a frank advey in discussing the subject, it is never-theless known here that he is much displeased with the instructions, and that

> Peculiar Family Arrangements. Correspondence of the Boston Travelle

A very curious instance of an exchange f wives by parties formerly residing in Salisbury, in this county, has just been developed here by the arrest of two of the Their names are George F. and Annie R. Godsoe, and Charles H. and Sarah Lizzie Lowell. Lowell was married in 1856, and Godsoe was married in 1862. Both parties resided for some time in Salsbury, where, in December, 1868, each becoming dissatisfied with their companons, and their connubial associations, the two husbands with their wives went to a lawyer and entered into a written agreenent to separate and not to hereafter in-erfere with each other. They went to terfere with each other. They went to Portsmouth, N. H., where Mr. Godsoe was married to Mrs. Lowell, and Mr. Lowell o Mrs. Godsoe, since which time they have been living together in the conjugal relations, immediately following what may e termed the process of "simple divorce which took place at Salisbury. Mr. Godsoe and his paramour, Mrs. Lowell, having become residents here, were complained of by parties knowing the circumstances. for their illegal connection, and were ar raigned before Judge Carter to answer to the charge of bigamy. Lowell and his companion, Mrs. Godsoe, residing in Amesbury, were also arraigned, and each bound over in the sum of $500 for their appearance at the October term of Court. Failing to obtain sureties, the par ties are in custody. There was no evidence, we belive, that the new and somewhat peculiar arrangements were other-wise than pleasant, but the moral aspect of the case was offensive. Actor Accidentally Cut on the Stage

Last night, while the complimentary benefit to Creole was given at De Bar's, Miss Stone accidentally cut Mr. A. B. Pierson, an amateur actor. It was in the last act. A pretended blow should have been given; but, unfortunately, a real one was struck, and a gash three or four inches in length, under the left shoulder, inflicted with a dagger. Blood flowed freely, and for a time considerable excitement prevailed among the actors. A physician was sent for, and the wound was dressed. It was pronounced not serious. It was near the heart, and the escape was a narrow one.—St. Louis Republican, 14th.

Revenue Receipts for the Fiscal Year.

The McMahon Mystery Still Unraveled.

THE REVENUE

Washington, D. C., June 15.—The Internal Revenue receipts for the first half of the last month of the fiscal year show very clearly what the full returns will amount to on June The receipts from all sources will reach about three hundred and fifty-eight millions, while the expenditures, including the interest on the public debt, will amount to about three hundred and twenty-six millions. This church bill that they will stimulate the disestimate of the receipts made at the Treasury, withhe fifteen days of the official figures, do not vary but two or three millions from the estimate made by special commissioner Wells last January. NASHVILLE.

Political Affairs-Probable Change of Front-Stokes Stock Rising in the East-Lively Times-Marriage of a Celebrated Courtesan.

NASHVILLE, June 15.—A special dispatch from Knoxville to the Republican Banner to-day says there is every probability that the Knoxville Whig, which has been strong for Senter, will change its front and come out for Stokes. There seems to be proved to proceed the company of t Stokes. There seems to be much opposition to Senter's plan of universal suffrage in East Tennessee, and his opponent appears to have rather got the advantage in the recent discussion the second seems.

Rampant Radicals of Blount county have sworn that Scuter shall not preach his uni-versal suffrage doctrine among them. Fears are entertained that he will be mobbed. The deflection of the Whig from Senter's side will change the aspect of things quite materially. Candidates for the Legislature,

THE FIGHT AT PUERTO DEL PADRE.

INCREASING STRENGTH OF THE CUBANS.

Washington, June 3 .- News has been re ceived from Cuban sources of a fight which took place between the revolutionary forces and Spanish troops near Puerto Del Padre. The Cuban troops, numbering 2,000, were attacked in their intrenchments by the Spaniards with a force of nearly double that numer, who were twice repulsed. The loss of the Cubans was less than one hundred, while that of the attacking party was three times as great. The Spaniards retreated, having a mber of killed and wounded on the field.

The result of this battle has had an encouraging effect upon the Cuban army, which is reported gaining strength every day from every portion of the Island. The want of my between the officers of Government troops in the field, and the volunteers who have taken possession of the Government of the Island is exhibiting itself in the demoralization of the Spanish troops and the large number of desertions to the Cuban army. This condition has given a new impetus and strength to the Cuban cause, the leaders having no doubt of their ultimate success. A number of recruits, mostly from Virginia

The Debate on the Church Bill.

ENGLAND,

THE PRESS ON THE IRISH CHURCH DEBATE. LONDON, June 15 .- The Times, in an article on last night's debate in the House of Lords, says the speeches of Lord Stratford de Radeliffe and the Archbishop of Canterbury leave no doubt as to the result of the bill. White they dislike it, and are unable to persuade themselves it will have a beneficial effect, they advise the House to give its assent. The practical good sense and patriotism of these speeches contrast strongly with the tone of Mr. Bright's hasty effusion.

The PRELIMINARIES.

St. Louis, June 15.—The following is a full account of the prize fight:

The mill took place on Foster's island, about twenty miles down the river, Jerry Donavan and Tom Kelly as seconds for McCoole, and Beyley, of New York, and Sherman Thurston for Allen. Jack Looney, of St. Louis, was umpire for McCoole, and E. Holland, of Cincinnati, for Allen. Much time was consumed in choosing a referee, but Val. McKinney was finally selected amid on last night's debate in the House of Lords Mr, Bright's hasty effusion.

The Telegraph says that after the first night's debate on the Irish Church bill the issue cannot be doubted. The Star thinks that since the speech of the Archbishop of Canterbury everything appears

TRANQUILLITY IN PARIS.

The Times to-day says the restoration of tranquillity in Paris was the only event which could reasonably be anticipated where citizens were indifferent and the military force imense. It rejoices that the inevitable result was obtained without bloodshed. Nothing now hinders the Emperor from adopting the constitutional course which the elections in-ite. Another battle in the streets might be nade the cause for the indefinite postpone-ment of public liberties. Paris, on second thought, chose the more moderate among the liberal candidates for the legislature, and by her indifference rebuked the attempted violence. There can be no excuse now for holding the city too hostile for conciliation.

THE TIMES ON THE ALABAMA QUESTION.
The Times has another article on the Alabama claims, and says it cannot be denied that the work of building the Alabama was done knowingly by British builders in a British port. THE RING.

Short Engagement Between

McCoole and Allen. Intensely Exciting Gladiatorial

Display. THE PRELIMINARIES.

Val. McKinney was finally selected amid great cheering. THE MEN.

When stripped both men presented a fair appearance, but Allen much the best. Mc-Coole's friends were much disappointed at his condition, he being fat and showed unitary and the stripped the stripped to the skillful training. The men entered the ring at a quarter to two o'clock, but the fighting did not commence until some time after. Mc-Coole won the choice of ground. McCoole offered to bet Allen $2,000. Allen made a speech, saying he was an Englishman, had no but asked for fair play.

THE FIGHT. The men then went to work with the following result:

1st Round—Men approached each other very cautiously, but with confidence. A few caxchanges, and then hard hitting at close quarters. Finally McCoole planted a heavy blow near Allen's eye, knocking him down.

First knock-down and first blood claimed for heart of the chorus and instrumental performers numbered from ten to twelve thousand. Fully the chorus and instrumental performers numbered from ten to twelve thousand. Fully one-balf the people haside the Colisseum were

First knock-down and first blood claimed for McCoole, although blood appeared on both faces.

2d Round—Terrific blows in rapid succession on each other's faces, resulting finally in favor of McCoole.

3d Round—Men eyed each other with the ferocity of gladiators, and after a few severe blows they clinched and fell together. The struggle caused intense excitement, and McCoole's friends realized that the glant had met a man worthy of his steel.

4th Round—McCoole came to twelve thousand. Fully one-half the people inside the Colisseum were ladies. A general view from the balcony is quite beyond description. Nothing like it was ever witnessed on this continent. The view embraces about three and a half acres of faces.

The first piece on the programme, the grand choral—"A Streng Castle is Our Lord"—was sung by the full chorus, with the grand or chestra and organ under direction of Gilmore. The chorus comprised 10,000 voices, and the orchestra 1.100 instruments, which com-of the fight.

5th Round—Heavy fighting throughout.
There were desperate exchanges, during which Tom administered two or three terrific blows on Mike's face, which seemed to be a mass of blood from forehead to chin. He had terrible gashes under both eyes and his face was terribly disfigured. The combatants clinched, and, after a desperate strangele, both went down together near the ropes. The round was decidedly in favor of Allen.

6th Round—Heavy hitting Allen. continued applause.

The overture Tanhauser, by a select or chestra of 600 musicians, was then performed under direction of Julius Echbury. It was areafully and thoroughly performed, its fluer strains being plainly heard in all their sweetness in all parts of the building. It was a sonfessed success, cliciting rounds of applause.

"Glory be to God on High," from Mozart's 12th mass, was rendered by a full chorus with orchestral and organ accompaniemt under both went down together near the ropes.
The round was decidedly in favor of Allen.
6th Round—Heavy hitting. Allen seemed the freshest of the two and looked very complacent, dancing round his opponent with ease. After some sharp hitting the round resulted in his favor.

7th Round-McCoole presented a ferlorn appearance and was not very rapid in responding to time. Allen looked fresh and cheerful, and, after some exchanges of not a very satisfactory character to McCgole, Allen decided to go to grass in order to escape another of those terrible blows from the giant's sledge hamper. and exhorted the House to accept the mea-another of those terrible blows from the giant's sledge hammer.

Sth Round—The backers of McCoole urged him to make short work of his opponent, but is vain, for the prestige of the giant was rapidly being demolished before the superior skill and tactics of his antagonist. Mike struck out wildly with his right, but missed his mark, his opponent highting on his potatotrap with terrible effect. McCoole got a terrible punishment in this round, and it became evident that the fight would come to a speedy termination, the giant being knocked partly off his pins, which terminated this round, Allen looking bland and serene at the close.

Ight lasted about twenty minutes.

EXCITEMENT IN ST. LOUIS.

The brief accounts so far received have been put on the street and extras are selling with wonderful rapidity. Great excitement exists and much disappointment is expressed at the evident inability of McCoole to cope with Allen. The boat upon which the party is will not be here before 8 o'clock. Nothing further, therefore, can be learned at present.

SECOND DISPATCH. THE RETURN OF THE PARTY.

ST. Louis, June 15.-The steamer Louis st. Lours, June 15.—The steamer Louis-ville, with the prize-fighting party, arrived here about eight o'clock this evening. It seems to be the very general opinion of those present at the fight, and competent to judge, that there was neither a foul blow struck nor any gouging done by Allen. It is also quite a general belief that McCoole's friends determined from the outset that Allen should neither win the fight nor get the money. It is freely said that McCoole's friends acted in the most shameful and disgreeful manner, displaying knives and pistols with the view of intimidating Allen, and in other ways showing the they intended to have corrections. The conduct of the whole affair was so outrageous that it is denounced by many of the roughs themselves, who say that prize fighting is sunk so low that it is a swindle and a cheat, and a mere struggle for spoils.

The second round was not in favor of McCoole, as previously reported, but, on the contrary, Allen punished his antagonist very severely, and from that time it was avident.

Though after the event it may be regretted that such things were lawful, it is most certain they were not unlawful, but it would have been better for both countries if the gevernment had seized the Alabama. Hon. H. A. Rice followed as orator of the day. His speech was of considerable length, in which he said it is ordained in !he attairs of men that the highest triumph of victory is in the most perfect peace; the loudest din of battle hushed in melody of song. In entire agreement with this thought com vast assembly, larger than ever before gathered in a single audience room upon this continent-gathered from East, West, North and South to blend the power of numbers and the harmony of sound, together with mutiplied voices and instruments of every name, in offered to bet Allen $2,000. NEW YORK.

When the rope was cut on the last round, McCoole's friends crowded in the ring, and, with pistols and knives drawn, demanded of the referee a decision in the giant's favor, and it is said by some that McKinney declared for McCoole, but this is stoutly denied, and it is now stated that the referee will publish his decision in the to-morrow morning papers; that McKinney was afraid to decide in the ring against a foul for fear of being killed on the spot.

There seems to be no doubt that the reservation of the decision until morning is believed to be favorable for Allen, and to give McKinney time to leave town and escape the vengeance of McCoole's friends. That the whole affair was one of the most brutal character and a pre-determined design that one man should win and the other lose at all hazards, there is scarcely a doubt.

Base Ball.

NEW YORK, June 15.—A base ball match on the Union Grounds, Williamsburg, between the Cincinnati at d Mutual clubs was decided this morning in favor of the Cincinnatis by four to two. There never was its low to 80 before commencing on the Mutuals. The Mutuals made nothing in the seven first innings, and one each in the eighth and ninth, when the betting became even. The Cincinnatis made one run each in the first, second, and ninth. About 4,000 persons were present who were very orderly. Walker, of the Active club, was umpire. To-morrow the Cincinnatis play the Atlantics and on Thursday the Eckfords.

The game to-day was the best and sharpest full game on record, hardly a mistake occurring on either side and no hall passing the

The doubt.

The decision.

The following will be published to-morrow morning:

"I, Valantine McKinney, give my decision in the late fight between McCoole and Allen in favor of McCoole, there being a foul committed by Allen on McCoole in the last reund by gouging his eye.

The game to-day was the best and sharpest full game on record, hardly a mistake occurring on either side, and no ball passing the Cincinnatic atcher. The Mutuals played first, and scored nothing in seven innings, McMahon scoring one in the eighth and R. Hunt in the ninth. For the Cincinnatians Waterman scored one in the first iuning, Geo. Wright one in the third inning, Brainard one and Swensey one in the ninth inning.

The plan which has met with general favor in this community, and indorsed by almost the entire Louisville press, solves all the difficulties of the situation, and it is believed that it might stand a good chance of success in Congress, if it could first be agitated and thoroughly discussed in the principal cities and towns of the United States, so as to secure anything like unanimity on the subject throughout like unanimity on the subject throughout jority of the Congress would be glad to be for common lugs to 25 for Owen county the country. The plan is one which shown some feasible plan of escaping from RANGE OF BIDS-1 hhd at $25 00, 1 hhd tific, and is based on the following PRINCI-

1. The only true test of the right volume of currency is the general rate of interest.

2. To a perfect system of paper money two things are required: First, the per-fect solvency of the maker, and secondly, that it shall be redeemable in coin. 3. It is quite as important for a government to have as full control of its issues of paper money as of its coin, and no paper money should be allowed but that

During specie payments with United States notes, no more coin will be drawn heartily tired of turning away daily their than enough to supply the legitimate coin good customers, having prime paper, into demand, without any reference at all to the amount of paper out, whether it be one hundred millions or twenty-five hundred millions.

5. If it shall require an amount of currency equal to the whole national debt in order to bring down the general rate of interest as low as in Europe, the government should issue that amount, and thus place the whole debt permanently without interest, by which means all the internal taxes may soon be taken off.

6. By so constructing the tariff as to prevent the drainage of gold to other countries (as is done by all other great nations out this), the quantity of coin may be reasonably expected to increase each year, even under specie payments.

Resulting from these principles is the

Make the greenbacks good money by coming to specie payments and then pay bonds and stop the interest. The coin thus saved will enable the government to sustain specie payments. The debt, or so thus saved will enable the government to sustain specie payments. The debt, or so much of it as can be used as currency, can thus be permanently placed without interest, and have no bonds issued bearing interest, until the general rate of interest throughout the country shall fall below 2½ to 3 per cent.; when bends may be issued at such low rates to such persons as can find no better use for their funds. If the amount of currency equal to the whole debt should be insufficient to bring down the general rate of interest to rate of interest to the desired point—say three to five per cent. throughout the country—the government should purchase is country—the government should purchase of currency shall be sufficient; and it shall adopt such rules in regard to specie payments as to prevent forever hereafter a general suspension. It must also provide against the drainage of coin to other countries. The internal revenue taxes, being needless, may soon be taken off, leaving the government to be sustained, as heretofore, by import duties.

5. That there are scientific and satisfactory reasons why the national debt should not be paid, except by being placed in currency—the true interest of both debtor and creditor requires that it must not be paid. It is proposed to attempt to raise the means to print some documents for circulation, particularly an article that appeared in the Louisville Journal about two years ago, in which this plan was fully discussed; and that measures be taken to inaugurate a general financial reform movement throughout the country. There is no question of his qualification; he numbers sixty-five years; was one of the few whose dissibilities, if he had any, were removed by Congress last year; and is perhaps one man out of a thousand of whom we may say, he will be the right man in the right place. CERTAIN REMEDY

FEVER AND AGUE.

THE CURE IS PERMANENT.

The Chill Once Broken Will Not Return.

Contains No Quinine or Arsenic, nor Any Deleterious Substance Whatever.

This preparation is carefully compounded of purely vegetable ingredients, and never fails, when properly taken, to cure the most obstinate case of fever and ague, neuralgia, and all malarious diseases. Unlike chill remedies generally, it requires no purgative to be taken with it, the medicine itself acting gently and agreeably upon the liver and bowels, effectually removing the cause of the disease, not merely temporarily checking it. Herein consists one great advantage it has over all other preparations. The crowning excellence of this remedy, however, above the permanency and certainty of its cure, is he fact that no injury whatever can arise from its use, as is certain to be the case when quinine or arsenic are taken, which are the principal ingredients of most of the chill medicines now in use. Quinine, acting upon the nervous system, produces, according to our best authorities, "a feeling of tightness or distension of the head, ringing, buzzing or roaring in the ears, partial deafness," &c., and, when the dose is increased, "complete deafness, diminution or loss of sight, dilated or immovable pupil, coma, and great prostra-

Another great virtue claimed for this medicine, and wherein consists its superiority over other medicines, is that the cure is permanent. It rarely requires more than a day or two to effectually break the chill, and, once broken, they will not return. Hundreds of letters are daily received testifying to the efficacy and wonderful virtues of this remedy. It is very popular wherever sold, taking the place of any chill remedy it comes in competition with.
